

Conference at IITGn

Researchers from different areas of cognitive science, such as cognitive or computational psychology, philosophy of mind, neuroscience, artificial intelligence and anthropology will come together at Indian Institute of Technology Gandhinagar (IITGn) to throw light on the importance of studying 'emotion' and 'action' in the area of Cognitive Science. The international conference "Cognition, Emotion and Action" is organised by the Cognitive Science programme during December 6-8.