

Experts discuss public health at IIT-Gn

Ahmedabad: The speakers attending the four-day workshop on "Society, Culture, and Public Health in India", being organized at the Indian Institute of Technology, Gandhinagar (IIT-Gn), presented an overview of the state of public healthcare delivery systems and public health research in the country. The workshop will continue till Tuesday.

The event, sponsored by the Center for Biomedical Engineering, is being led by its head Prof Mehrotra. About 10 faculty members and students of the School of Public Health at SUNY Albany in the US are attending the workshop. Particular attention is being paid to discussing the interplay between social/cultural factors with health outcomes. TNN
