JAVED RAJA

THE Indian Institute of Technology, Gandhinagar, organised its second convocation on Sunday, with a number of students receiving awards. One of the most interesting awards was that for Integrity and Exemplary Human Qualities. This year, the award was given to Aditi Dighe.

Aditi bagged the award because of the qualities she displayed as part of the students' counseling team where she helped her juniors overcome their professional and personal difficulties. The rationale behind such awards was elaborated by the Chairman of Board of Governors of the institute, Dr Baldev Raj, in his speech. Raj said that the aim of the institute was to cultivate leaders for the country and so, each and every aspect of the personality was taken into consideration.
