IIT-Gn to offer Humanities and Social Science course

Indian Institute of Technology Gandhinagar (IIT-Gn) is offering a new Humanities and Social Sciences course to promote interest in India's intellectual, scientific and artistic knowledge traditions. This full-semester course titled 'Introduction to the Indian Knowledge Systems', which begins on January 4, 2016, is designed to lead the students to an intimate understanding of the classical Indian thought traditions from an insider's perspective. Course coordinators are Prof Michel Danino, a scholar of ancient Indian history and a guest professor at IIT-GN, and Payel Chattopadhyay Mukherjee, a postdoctoral fellow of the Institute.
